

RED BULL ENCHANTED FOREST CONNECT Festival Inveraray, Scotland.

Connect Festival was a brand new boutique festival on the banks of Loch Fynne in Scotland. Red Bull hired Pete Watts and LIVE LX to create an "Enchanted Forest" in a copse of trees in the centre of the site. By day, the area would be a quiet, restful place for music fans to chill out - but by night, it would turn into a nightclub with DJs playing till 2am. Lighting for this project was a challenge for Live LX but they were most certainly up for the challenge! They had to provide fast moving dance floor lighting without losing the forest setting. The trees and bushes surrounding the area were lit in various colours, creating a backdrop and canopy for the area - as well as creating an exciting visual impact that could be seen from all over the site. The dance floor area was lit using generic lights, which could change slowly with the music or create high-speed chases during up beat dance music. These were complemented by the use of a powerful strobe to create a super club feel when necessary! Other areas were lit using mirror balls that we hung from the trees and strong colours, lighting the branches of the trees. There were two bars in the area which were self-contained with their own lighting, that was tweaked to fit with the overall design. The whole experience was very well received by the festival goers as well as the organisers (DF Concerts).
